RISK REDUCTION QUESTIONS

Do you understand that you are applying for liability insurance through the North American Horsemen's Association [NAHA] Insurance Program and that if you purchase insurance you are required to follow all risk reduction standards mandated by the association?

Contact your agent for copies of the Risk Reduction Program that applies to your operation.

The program must be reviewed and signed as part of your insurance application to secure insurance under this program.

The key requirements are questioned about in the five sections that follow.

EMPLOYEES and INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR INSTRUCTORS

WHO IS AN EMPLOYEE? Generally, an employee is a staff member who is hired by you (the employer) to work for and perform duties on behalf of your business in exchange for payment of a regular wage or salary, or other type of compensation or reciprocal services to which value can be established, such as lodging, board, meals, horse board, training, or instruction. Employees work a regular schedule that is set by the employer. Employees are directed and controlled by the employer in their work, and they use the employer's equipment to perform their duties.

WHO IS AN INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR [I.C.]? Generally, an independent contractor is someone who provides business services on their own behalf to customers at property not owned or leased by them, but that they contract with the owner for use. The I.C. brings their own equipment sets their own schedule according to time and space availability, and they follow certain rules required by the premises owner. The I.C. sets their rates and does their own billing and collections. Unlike employees, independent contractors are not subject to close direction and control regarding details of their work. The I.C. Riding Instructor or Trainer usually pays the land owner a facilities use fee.

STATE EMPLOYMENT LAW WARNING: Who is an employee is governed by laws of your state and the federal government. You must comply with federal and state labor laws, including your state's Worker Compensation laws.

EMPLOYEE / STAFF / VOLUNTEER QUESTIONS and WORKER COMPENSATION COVERAGE EXCLUSION WARNING
WARNING: Injuries incurred by Employees, Contract Laborers, Exchange Laborers, and Volunteers are expressly not covered under the general liability policy for which you are applying, and the policy also does not provide Worker Compensation or Employer's Liability Insurance. Worker Compensation Insurance is the most effective way and usually the only way to cover staff bodily injury claims and it is usually required by the labor laws of each state.

 Do you have any non-paid, non-compensated volunteers who assist you in your operations?

STAFF MEMBERS WHO REQUIRE PROFESSIONAL LIABLITY

EMPLOYEES are insured for liability they incur while performing their duties in relation to your business activities without being named as an additional insured on your policy. However, employees who are riding instructors, trainers, or therapeutic services providers holding degrees, certifications, and accreditation to perform these services, may want to have professional liability insurance. If they take this insurance, it will protect them only when performing covered services at or on behalf of your business.

INDEPENDENT CONTRACTOR INSTRUCTORS, TRAINERS, AND EQUINE THERAPEUTIC SERVICES PROVIDERS

☐ ✓ Check This Box If You Have None to List

If riding instruction, training and / or therapeutic services exposures are declared in your application, you, the Named Insured will be covered for these activities. However, independent contractors providing these services at your facility will not be covered for their liability unless they carry their own liability insurance policy or unless they are named in your policy as an additional insured.

Independent Contractors [I.C.s] are best insured by carrying their own liability policy, especially if they provide their services at multiple locations. It is also best if they keep their liability insurance separate from yours. If your Independent Contractors [I.C.s] carry their own liability insurance policy, they should provide you and your insurer with proof of insurance in the form of a Certificate of Insurance or a copy of their policy. We can provide an insurance application kit for each of your I.C.s at your or their request.

If you choose to have them named and insured under your policy, they will be insured only for services they provide at your location or off premises on behalf of your horse business, but not at any other location. I.C.s who are riding instructors, trainers, or therapeutic services providers who hold degrees, certifications, and accreditation to perform these services, may want to have professional liability insurance in addition to general liability. If they take this insurance, it will protect them only when performing covered services at or on behalf of your horse business.

List below only the Independent Contractors who you want added to your policy as Additional Insured.

If they do not carry their own liability policy, they must be insured under yours.

They also must agree to follow the mandatory NAHA Risk Reduction Standards that apply to their services.
